We chose the griffin for our logo because the mythical beast is a traditional symbol of quality.

In the ancient days, griffins were said to be half-lion, half-eagle protectors of the kings' gold. The association with gold soon made the griffin a symbol of high quality products.

Since our first software program was a Dungeons and Dragons (TM) game for the Radio Shack Model I, we thought the griffin would be an excellent logo for us. In the years since, many have recognized our griffin as the mark of quality software at a reasonable price.

We like to look at MichTron as a group of dedicated computer programmers and their support staff.

At the present time MichTron has 20 free lance programmers working on the Atari ST.

Many of the programmers make enough money from their commissions to pay their way through college. The more of their programs we sell, the more money they make. The commission system gives programmers the incentive to write more and better programs. If you like this idea tell your friends about it and tell them to buy a copy of your program from MichTron.

If you have written a program for the Atari ST we would be very interested in seeing it. We are always looking for good software to market.

We feel that MichTron can offer the best packaging, best marketing, and the best reputation of any company selling software to market.

We try to sell state-of-the-art programs that give outstanding value for the dollar. If you have any suggestions, criticisms or comments, they are always welcome. We read every letter sent to us and forward them to the program authors for inclusions in revisions.
