

F.F. COLLECTORS BOOKMARKS

BOOKMARK

2

FIGHTING FANTASY COLLECTORS BOOKMARKS

Collect the set and enter the FIGHTING FANTASY COMPETITION OF THE CENTURY!

Every new FF book published in October and November contains a FF Collectors Bookmark – these are the books to watch out for if you want to collect the set – OCTOBER – FF 23: Masks of Mayhem, Titan, The Riddling Reaver,
NOVEMBER – FF 24: Creature of Havoc, Helmquest

HOW TO ENTER: Two gruelling quests that require all your skill and ingenuity. Enter one or both competitions.

THE ADVENTURER'S COMPETITION

Each bookmark contains a new chapter in the adventures of Jerik Kalazar, famed adventurer and treasure seeker. In each story there is a puzzle which will give you a one syllable word answer.

Can you solve the puzzle below? Send in your answer on a postcard and you could win

■ A complete signed set of FF books ■ £10 of Puffin Books ■

Runners up prizes ■ 100 Fighting Fantasy Posters

Closing date: 31st March 1987

PART 2 THE GRAND QUEST

If you collect all 5 bookmarks and solve every puzzle you will have 5 words altogether. Take the letters of all of them, jumble them together and you will find the location of Varag Hawkflight's treasure. This entitles you to enter the FIGHTING FANTASY COMPETITION OF THE CENTURY! Send your answer, together with the cut-off section on the corner of all 5 bookmarks and you could win an incredible prize!

■ A MONSTER DAY OUT WITH STEVE JACKSON and IAN LIVINGSTONE including a visit to Games Workshop Factory in Nottingham and lunch with the Puffin FF editors

■ PRIZES £100 of the latest Games and Citadel Miniatures ■ £100 of Puffin Books ■

Hand-made FF trophy ■ A complete signed set of FF books ■

Your picture printed in WARLOCK magazine Runners up prizes – 200 Fighting Fantasy Posters

Remember your entry to this part of the Competition is only valid with the cut-off sections from all 5 bookmarks enclosed.

Closing date: 31 March 1987

Send your entries to: F.F. Bookmarks Competition, Puffin Books, 27 Wrights Lane, London W8 5TZ

2. TITAN

The young scribe Jerik Kalazar has been left several items by an old adventurer, Varag Hawkflight, which have given him clues to a great treasure hidden somewhere in Allansia. The quickest way to that wild northern land is by boat, though the journey is a perilous one as the route passes along the infamous Pirate Coast.

Jerik packed his things in the middle of the night, and slipped out of the house. By sun-up he had reached the outskirts of the city of Kaynlesh-ma, capital of Arantis, and as the sun reached the highest point in the sky he found himself on the docks, booking passages up the coast on a ship called The Dolphin. As the setting sun tinged the western waters a brilliant orange, the ship slipped out of port and headed northwards. Lying in his hammock below, Jarik wiped away a tear of regret at leaving his homeland, but then fell asleep dreaming of all the adventures to come...

Continued overleaf

He awoke at dawn to the sound of fighting! Sneaking upstairs, Jerik stuck his head round the door to see the rest of the crew and passengers surrounded by cutlass-wielding pirates, when all of a sudden a hand caught his shoulder and dragged him out into the daylight! "Well, look what we have here, boys," cried the captain of the pirates. "A brave young adventurer off to make his fortune, I'll be bound!" All the pirates laughed, crying, "Throw him to the sharks, cap'n!"

"Well, young hero," the captain grinned, "Do you want to feed the sharks – or shall we see how clever you are? Tell me the answer to this riddle and you can come with us as far as Port Blacksand; get the answer wrong and you'll be shark-bait!"

*Five little men standing in a row,
They walk just ahead of you everywhere you go,
Helmets on their heads off to war they go,
But be careful you don't step on one or you'll hurt a – what?"*

Can you solve the puzzle?

Send your entries to: F.F. Bookmarks Competition, Puffin Books, 27 Wrights Lane, London W8 5TZ