ALTAIR 4

VOYAGER

ALTAIR 4

It's always the same, just when you think things are going well disaster strikes.

There you were, lying back in the cockpit of your Strato-Cruiser playing the latest Voyager game when an asteroid storm appears from nowhere.

Before you have time to grab the controls you've been hit; and hit bad. You have no alternative, you must make an emergency landing - the trouble is where?

You punch your co-ordinates into the computer and the name of the nearest planet appears on the screen; slowly a feeling of dread creeps over your entire body; the only place you can make your emergency landing is ALTAIR 4 – The galactic penal planet. The most deadly place in the Universe.

For generations every planet in the galaxy has sent its most dangerous criminals to ALTAIR 4; now the planet is inhabited by the most violent bunch of cut-throats imaginable; from Mekon Monsters to Bug-Blyte Beasts.

After an heroic struggle you have managed to land; now your adventures are about to begin. You must venture forth from the safety of your Strato Cruiser and find the necessary equipment to enable you to make your repairs. Will you manage to avoid the marauding gangs of evil cut-throats?

There is only one ray of hope in this dismal world; many years ago a giant Furry Wooky was wrongly imprisoned; if you happen to come across him you will find a much needed friend.
