HERE COMES THE SUN – Spectrum

AGE: 11 PLUS HOME ENTERTAINMENT – SPACE ADVENTURE

Play the last great hero – the only man left on earth with the space experience and nerve to stop the massive space station from having a catastrophic collision with the sun. If your mission is unsuccessful then the resulting colossal solar explosion will turn the earth's vital energy source into a doomsday black hole, swallowing the whole of the universe.

Starting in the airlock of the great ship you must quickly seek out and activate the retro-rockets and skillfully pilot your craft to safety, saving the human race from ultimate destruction.

A very complex adventure with sound and high resolution graphics.

The logo for 'Alligata' is rendered in a large, pixelated, blocky font. The letter 'A' is particularly stylized, featuring a series of horizontal lines that create a sense of depth or a staircase effect on its left side. The overall aesthetic is reminiscent of early computer graphics or video game titles.
