DUNGEON OF TORGAR
by Simon M. Langan

Introduction

Having finished his tale the storyteller holds up a box saying "Who will buy a genuine map to the mountain of Torgar, only five silver pieces." You sling the man the money and examine the map he gave you. It looks genuine enough, so you decide to set out the next day. It takes a little over two weeks to reach the mountain, and now you stand before the torch lit entrance to the Dungeon of Torgar.
