★ Intensely fun games
coming your way!

Brace yourself for a motherlode of excitement, fellow gamer.

You've just struck gold. U.S. Gold. A series of fun-hungry games designed to put virtually every one of your hyper-alert senses to the test. How's your sense of adventure? One look at the battleship Bismarck from the cockpit of your Dive Bomber™ and you'll know. If your sense of timing is a little rusty, better take a long look at Metrocross.™ And then there's Street Cat.™ Created for the simple reason that no computer game worth its bytes would be complete without a test of the most important sense of them all. Your sense of humor. Plus two new games soon to hit the shelves of your local software store. So go ahead. Turn the page. And be among the first to welcome these one of a kind escapades into the world.★

Metrocross™

Got a second? Good. 'Cause you'll need every one of 'em you can spare. In fact, if you've got any split-second reflexes, you may want to bring those along, too. Your computer is about to turn commuter as you take a wild run through a tangle of twisted subway tunnels. It's you against the clock. Oh, all right. We'll throw in some skateboards and a catapulting springboard or two just to help out. But remember: there are a barrage of barriers bent on your destruction. Like potholes that bring back memories of your family trip to the Grand Canyon. Green slime tiles that'll send you skidding back to the suburbs. Oh yes, and rats the size of taxi cabs. Welcome to the urban jungle. Where just when you think it's safe to go above ground, you hit another level of obstacles. 24 in all. Each one of which is more impossible than the last.

Jump on that spring board and you'll turn into a surface-to-air missile.

There's no time to take a breather here, folks. So the moment you boot up, you'd better be ready for rush hour.

Ever skate boarded through green slime tiles?

Dive Bomber™

It's 1941. World War II has reached its climax. And you're about to maneuver your way into the annals of history. As pilot of your own allied dive bomber, your mission is clear: Seek out and destroy the Bismarck. The most feared battleship in all of Germany's fleet.

Ever got the feeling you're being followed?

Go ahead. Practice taking off and landing from the safety of your own aircraft carrier. You'll need all the skill you can muster when it's you against 42 thousand tons of riveted killing machine. Did we mention those pesky enemy U-Boats, E-Boats and mine fields? But fear not, my winged friend. You're amply outfitted:

You've got two gunnery positions, allowing you to fire from the relative comfort of your cockpit or from the plane's tail gunner. "Position Reports" monitor incoming intelligence. Information you can use to create your own "Flight Plan." We're talkin'

Street Cat™

As the coolest cat in town, you've got some pretty tough turf to defend. So it's a good thing you've got nine lives. You'll need them all as you hop on your purring motorcycle and speed through a seemingly impossible tangle of city streets. And don't leave your sense of humor in the dust. This cat's definitely got a few zany whiskers attached. Put your athletic skills to the detailed graphics and seat-of-your-pants action that never quits. So fasten your seat belts, mate. You're in for the dogfight of your life.

Now's the time to get that sinking feeling.

The biggest test of all is your sense of humor.

test as event after grueling event is dished up. Begin by trying to crawl, jump, paw and skedaddle your way across a park that's anything but tranquil. Then best of luck avoiding a chilly dip in the arena swimming pool. Now we'll see if you can land on your feet. Next, try oozing your way through the city's slimey cesspool of sewers. Got any of your nine lives left? Now try bowling over a nasty bulldog who hasn't got a soft spot in his heart for frisky felines. One false move and you're kitty litter.

Every challenge you've ever conjured up in even your wildest cat naps is here for you.

Coming Soon

Coming soon from those amusing minds at U.S. Gold: Sports-A-Roni™ Where Galileo meets gelato. And you meet eight of the craziest events ever invented by man or computer. If you think that's a whole other world, wait 'til you encounter the planet Nebulus in Tower Toppler™. Try your alien hand at demolishing a series of 3 dimensional spiraling towers. Of course, we've thrown in a myriad of obstacles that stand between you and the top. But that's life, right?
