THE FACTS OF THE CASE: This family moves into an old mansion. Every night for the next two weeks, lights go on and off in the house, telephones ring with no one on the line, rooms get messed up, strange footsteps and groaning noises are heard. Folks say the house is haunted. Sounds to me like someone wants to give them a bad scare. But why? Besides, what would a ghost do with a Siamese cat? There's more to this than meets the eye.

BACKGROUND NOTES:

The Kims

ALICE, MICHAEL, AND THEIR DAUGHTERS, AMANDA AND JENNIFER
Michael is an engineer who is an expert in fixing ship engines. For two weeks he's been away on a special mission in the South Atlantic. He is trying to free a stranded nuclear submarine and cannot be reached by his family. Alice writes historical novels and is working on a book about the Revolutionary War. Amanda is twelve and loves her cat, her family, and sailing, in that order. Jennifer is eight and is always poking her nose into everything.

THE KIMS' NEW HOME

Known as "the mansion," the house has been owned by the Cables for almost two hundred years. It has Ezra's name because he made many repairs and additions to the place during the middle eighteen hundreds. The last people who lived there were Jeremiah Cable, who drowned at sea, and his wife Abigail, who was accidentally killed shortly after her husband's death. Although the house had been empty since 1906, some folks in town say that Abigail's ghost still wanders around in there. All sorts of rumors and tales are told about the place. In recent months, the police have been up there several times to look into reports of weird noises and flickering lights at night. But no sign of any trespassers has ever been found. However, witnesses insist that they saw what they saw. The mansion has been for sale for years. Four weeks ago, it was suddenly sold to the Kims who have come here from Alaska.

Essie Cable*THE SWEET OLD LADY

Essie and her two sisters live in the smaller Cable house. They had to sell the mansion because caring for it just cost too much. Essie was heartbroken. She is always digging up more about her family's history and often holds seances to try to contact her ancestors. She has visited the Kims twice lately to tell them about the house's history, but Mrs. Kim has been too worried about things to listen. Mrs. Kim thinks Essie is a bit odd, but the kids seem to like her.

Alfred Grummbal*THE NEXT DOOR NEIGHBOR

Grummbal is a person who likes things quiet. In fact, when the festival committee tried to rent the Cable mansion to use as an exhibit, he said he would sue the town. When the place was finally sold to the Kims, he was even madder. Now he's talking about putting a high fence around his yard. Although he is married, no one has seen his wife for years. Before he retired he worked down in the village in the loan department of the bank.

Lady Liberty*THE TWO-MASTED SCHOONER

Originally built by Thomas Cable, the Lady Liberty was used to transport soldiers during the Revolutionary War. Later it carried cargo to and from the West Indies. Then, for several years before the Civil War, it was used to carry run-away slaves to freedom in Canada. Now the ship is being repaired and restored from top to bottom. It will be the main attraction at the Granite Point 300th birthday celebration. This festival, including the first re-launching of the Lady Liberty, begins this June 15.

THE SIAMESE CAT

This cat is a champion sealpoint Siamese worth about $1000. It has been missing since 7:55 p.m. on Thursday, April 6. The cat is owned by Amanda Kim of Granite Point. It disappeared from her locked bedroom. The police have found no evidence of foul play.

Angelo Blume*THE GARDENER

Except for about 10 years, Angelo has lived in Granite Point all his life. For as long as anyone can remember, he has worked up on the cliff taking care of the yards around the houses there. In addition, he has always done odd jobs for the Cable sisters. He was very surprised to discover that the new owners of the Cable mansion no longer need his services. He has always loved the old house and did his best to keep it in good condition. Since he works for so many families, Angelo always seems to know just what's going on around town. In fact, he is a bit of a gossip.

Sammy Mudd*THE ORPHAN

Sammy's parents were killed in a plane crash three years ago when he was eleven. So he came to live with his Aunt Alice and her family. At first Sammy didn't think he would like living in a house with just girls. But he has found he especially likes doing things with Michael. Now the Kims are hoping that Sammy will let them legally adopt him. When Michael is away, Sammy tries to be the man of the house, but it is a lot of work. Even though he and Amanda are the best of friends, he still spends a lot of time by himself.

Olivia Ramirez*THE MUSEUM CURATOR

Olivia was hired for her job at the museum in Granite Point less than a year ago. She likes the people in the town and wants to do well at her new job. She was elected secretary for the festival committee. Recently she bought, at a high price, a ruby necklace and a handful of gold coins for the museum's Colonial History collection. Although the necklace and the coins are real, Olivia won't say where she got them. Olivia has told museum officials that she must keep her secret if the museum wants to get more treasures.

Harry Gettrich*THE REAL ESTATE BROKER

Folks can't figure out just why Harry set up a real estate office down in the village when he moved to Granite Point last year. So few people move in and out of Granite Point that selling houses doesn't seem to be a good way to make a living. But Harry has joined a lot of Granite Point activities and, for an outsider, he's well liked. Since the Kim's have moved in, he's taken a sudden interest in the Cable mansion. He's been up there twice trying to buy the place. No one can figure out why he wants to buy it or where he's going to get the money to pay for it.

Paige Smithson*THE HISTORIAN

Paige lives by himself in the Old Washburn carriage house down behind the Cable mansion. The place isn't much, but since it sits right at the edge of the cliff, the ocean view is beautiful. Paige moved in a few months ago after he took his new job at the state college library last summer. Paige doesn't go out with friends much, but he keeps busy. He is serving as the historical expert on the festival committee. He is always interested in anything to do with Granite Point history.

Cap'n. Cyrus Washburn

THE OLD SALT

The Captain's great grandfather was Canon Washburn, the famous churchman who spoke out against slavery. After a long life at sea, the captain has retired and taken an interest in Granite Point activities. He is chairman of the Granite Point festival committee and is in charge of the Lady Liberty. He worked hard to rent the Ezra Cable house to fix it up for the festival, but the Kims bought it instead. Anyway, the captain's friend Alfred Grumbal didn't like the idea of renting the place and the captain thinks alot of Alfred's opinion.
